

Gate City Rotary Club Unveils New Club Banner

Greensboro NC - The Gate City Rotary Club recently unveiled a new club banner. The new banner was designed by club member David Graves and is intended to represent Rotary's tradition and strength. The design incorporates the club's Triple Crown status which signifies 100% member participation in Rotary International's Benefactor and Paul Harris Fellow programs. (Paul Harris founded Rotary in 1905 as the world's first service club.)

Rotary clubs have a long-standing tradition of exchanging club banners with visiting members. The Gate City Club proudly displays banners from all over the world at its weekly meetings. The design features the Rotary International logo as the central element and the General Greene statue represents a part of our colonial and Greensboro heritage. The crest-like design helps to reiterate tradition.

For more information visit the club's web site at www.gatecityrotary.com. The Gate City Rotary Club was chartered in May 1991 and enthusiastically embraces services to vocation, community, club and the world, in keeping with the timeless four-way test, handed down by the founders of Rotary. The club meets each Thursday morning at 7 a.m. at the O'Henry Hotel in Greensboro. For more information contact club president, Lawrence Mann at 336-668-0347.
